PROFILE

Star salesman, beet farmer, bed and breakfast proprietor, aspiring freelance body-guard, office building owner, and former assistant [to the] regional manager. And that's just the resume. My list of personal skills and abilities is too vast to even list here. Do not contact me if you do not wish to be astonished at the sheer awesome that befalls you. Prepare to be taken down.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Regional Manager, Dunder Mifflin

Scranton, PA

May 2013 — Present

This is the position I should have occupied since the beginning.

- Maintained the highest sales average, despite the weak economy and obsolete product;
- Managed, inspired, and protected the Scranton branch from criminals and raccoons;
- Led the office to obtain immeasurable success and glory.

Sale's Associate, Staples

- Became the top salesman of the store within a one-month timespan;
- Made a record-high sales figure despite having an unfunny boss;
- Provided extraordinary and exceptional customer service to the masses.

Assistant (to the) Regional Manager, Dunder Mifflin

Mar 2005 — Mar 2008

- Acted as the Regional Manager's eyes, ears, and right hand, overseeing and reporting on employee conduct, productivity, and arrival/departure times;
- Provided services to the office such as martial arts and surveillance;
- Introduced new linen paper lines into the market, often closing sight-unseen sales of newly released products;
- Closed more sales with revenues totaling more profit than any other employee – past, present, and future (projected);
- Served as self-appointed enforcer of The Rules (policies and procedures manual);
- Led the office to obtain immeasurable success and glory.
